CHENEY, WASHINGTON, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1920

NUMBER 2

NORMAL DEFEATS SPOKANE UNIVERSITY

Score: Normal, 14; Spokane University 0.

Last Friday afternoon, for the first time since before the Great War, Cheney Normal was represented by a football team in an intercollegiate contest. From the very first the local team showed a superiority in both defense and offense, that indicated good coaching. Acheson kicked off for Cheney, the "U" receiving on the 20-yard line. The Normal soon gained possession of the ball when the visitors failed to make yardage. Walter ("Whitey") Wynstra carried the ball over for the first touchdown less than five minutes after the first whistle. Raymond ("Achey") Acheson kicked goal.

After the first touchdown the play was more even, as the "U" had a big advantage in weight. This advantage, however, was more than balanced by the home team's speed and superior generalship. The Normal goal was seriously threatened but once. This was during the third period, when the visitors carried the ball down the field by straight football tactics, but lost it for failure to make yardage when Cheney tightened at the 10-yard line. The "U" goal was in jeopardy several times, "Whitey" making a second touchdown during the last quarter. "Achey" again kicked goal.

The game was confined principally to straight football, the half-dozen or so forward passes that were tried being unsuccessful. Tho the Normal team seldom resorted to punting, "Achey" outpunted his opponents.

All the members of Cheney's team might be mentioned as individual stars, for the team as a unit was apparently responsible for the victory. The local linemen, tho outweighed, held their own and presented a stone wall at crucial moments. The backfield showed up as a well-balanced combination and received most of the glory for the team's success. Acheson at fullback excelled at kicking and as a line buckler, plunging thru the "U's" heavy line for repeated gains of from two to 10 yards. Wynstra brothers at the halfback positions and Kenneth Swank at quarter showed best on off tackle plays and at open field running. Swank and "Whitey" each making a brilliant 40-yard run thru a broken field. Betz at end and Captain "Baldy" Leach at tackle each called forth applause for special efforts in the line. For the visitors, Muse, the giant fullback, was a tower of strength.

Preceding the game a peppy "pep" meeting was held at the Friday assembly period. President Showalter, Coach Eustis and Captain Leach gave spirited talks, "Baldy" taking the occasion to introduce the members of the team. Mr. Cline officiated as song director while "Rooter King" Lawrence Laughon led yell practice. As a result the team received good backing from the students in the way of yells and songs that were notable for volume as well as timeliness.

The game was the first of a series to be played by the teams representing the members of the four-cornered league composed of Spokane college, Spokane university, Whitworth college and Cheney Normal. Spokane college defeated Whitworth at the same time the Normal won from the "U."

This week the Normal meets Whitworth on the Whitworth field at 3 p. m. Friday, while Spokane "U" plays Spokane college. The winner of the series will receive a silver trophy

Out Where the West Begins

Out where the hand clasp's a little stronger,
Out Where the smile dwell's a little longer,
That's where the West begins;
Out where the sun is a little brighter,
Where the snows that fall are a trifle whiter,
And the bonds of home are a wee bit tighter,
That's where the West begins.

Out where the skies are a trifle bluer,
Out where friendship's a little truer,
That's where the West begins.
Out where a fresher breeze is blowing,

Where there's laughter in every streamlet flowing,
Where there's more of reaping and less of sowing,
That's where the West begins.

Out where the world is in the making,
Where fewer hearts in despair are aching,
That's where the West begins.
Where there's more of singing and less of sighing,
Where there's more of giving and less of buying,
And a man makes friends without half trying—
That's where the West begins.

cup, given by the Crescent store of Spokane. When one of the four schools wins the cup twice it becomes the permanent property of that school.

The Lineup

Officials: Clarence Brownell, referee; P. S. Burns, umpire; Walter Powell, head linesman.

ASSEMBLY MEETINGS START OFF WITH A SNAP

Assembly audiences have been well pleased with the good start that has been made this year in having worthwhile meetings. The policy that has been adopted for assembly periods this quarter provides a schedule containing two rather than five assembly periods a week, each period lasting approximately one hour. On days when there is no assembly there is a short meeting of faculty and students for announcements. Tuesday of each week is usually students' assembly, while Friday is generally given over to formal exercises. Singing by the audience, under the direction of Mr. Cline, is frequently a part of the program.

Among those from outside the school who have appeared are Rev. Wilfred Withington, pastor of the local Congregational church; Rev. Charles Creesy, pastor of the Methodist church; Rev. W. Knepper, pastor of the Central Christian church of Spokane; Charles Bowman Hutchins of California and Frank F. Sheldon of Boston.

Rev. Withington and Rev. Creesy occupied a joint period. Rev. Withington established the relation between humor and his profession, and between humor and pedagogy. That Mr. Withington's talk was itself a good example of humor was evidenced by the audible mirth from the audience. Rev. Creesy pointed out certain lessons of life that might be drawn from circus procedure.

Rev. Knepper appealed to his audience to devote more time to individual study of the Bible. He noted the three most common excuses advanced for lack of Bible study, made an able defense of Bible students of the past, and showed how the Bible might serve us in many ways.

Enjoy "Bird Man"

The Normal will not soon forget the "bird man." Mr. Hutchins gave a popular lecture on birds, bird calls, and bird songs, that won him much applause. He used both chalk and voice to good effect in illustrating

Mr. Hutchins emphasized the fact that all bird songs are love songs. The usual assembly audience was augmented by the presence of townspeople, students of the high school, the public school and the Training school, for Mr. Hutchins' lecture. Mr. Hutchins was assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Kennedy as accompanist.

The fact that Mr. Hutchins is a western man, a product of our own state, made his lecture the more interesting. He not only delighted the hearts of the children, but the older people as well.

Dr. Sheldon of Boston Speaks

Dr. Frank F. Sheldon of Boston, who talked Wednesday, October 14, is a field representative of the Congregational church. A part of his work is visiting colleges and giving lectures to the students and faculty.

Hear Faculty Speak

From the Normal we have had the pleasure of listening to President Showalter, Miss Peek and Mr. Cline of the faculty and Miss Marie Scroggin of the student body. Three assembly periods have been taken wholly or in part by student elections.

"KID PARTY" AT MONROE HALL A SUCCESS

Last Saturday afternoon, on the back of the benches of the lower hallway of Monroe Hall, leaned a clever little poster. On it was a picture of a small girl with a "vampish" air, and these words: "Smart? I'm invited to the Little Girls' Party tonight at Monroe Hall. So are you, Seniors and Juniors." Were they there? If they were, they surely disguised themselves and threw away their supposedly dignified manners. Indeed, little girls of all descriptions appeared. Short girls wearing half-socks, long girls with pig tails, girls carrying dolls, and there was even one poor youngster whose parents were too poor to buy her any shoes or stockings. There were even a few little boys, dragging treasured playthings about with them. Monroe Hall turned from a teachers' dormitory into a nursery.

Anyone coming in from the outside night, upon hearing the prattling and noise, have decided that some institution at Medical Lake had been turned loose.

Nevertheless, everyone had a good time riding broom sticks, playing "drop the handkerchief" pinnning on the donkey's tail, eating ice cream and stubbing their toes over the carpet.

"We had a little party,
Where 'littles' were the guests;
I've told you just a little—
Ask the girls about the rest."

On Leave of Absence

Miss Harriet E. Heath, who is on a year's leave of absence from Cheney State Normal school, is now filling a similar position in the Prince school in Boston.

DRAMATIC CLUB INITIATES

The State Normal School Dramatic club has been showing its usual pep. During the first week the club members held their first meeting and the following officers were elected:

President, Cornell VanderMeer, Cheney; vice president, George Wallace, Cheney; secretary-treasurer, Martha Mallory, Spokane; reporter, Lulu Harmon, Cheney.

The other hold-over members of the organization are as follows: Alice Leydig, Spokane; Noble F. Leach, Cheney; Walter Wynstra, Cheney; Howard Erickson, Cheney, and William Durland, Thornton.

All students of the Normal were given an opportunity to gain admission to the club by tryout held in the auditorium on Wednesday afternoon, September 22. Those successful in the tryout and voted in as members of the club according to the club's constitution are as follows:

Avis McDonald, Cheney; Miss Dorothy Chamberlain, Cheney; Anne Ferbrache, Spokane; Ernest Betz, Cheney; Raymond Miller, Cheney, and Bertha King, Greenacres.

"The Man on the Box," described as a farce comedy in three acts was chosen by the club to be the first play to be presented this season.

A tentative cast has been chosen and rehearsals will begin this week. The cast will be announced at a later date.

The State Normal School Dramatic society was first organized in its present form at the beginning of the summer session of 1919. As described by a statement in the constitution, it is a society to further the interests of dramatics in the institution, and membership is open to all who can qualify before judges selected by the club and Mr. Farnham. Among the plays that have been presented by the club are: "Believe Me, Xantippe," "Under Cover," "Stop, Thief," and "Passing of the Third Floor Back."

As the Dramatic club is the exclusive dramatic organization of the school, it is usually considered one of the highest honors of the school to be numbered among its members, and to be privileged to wear the handsome pin, the emblem of the club.

One of the popular features of the club is its mysterious initiation. On such occasions green paint and downtown parades are usually in evidence. The conferring of the final degree is carried on behind closed doors.

Last Thursday evening the six members voted in at the tryout were initiated. The customary initiatory ceremony was carried out, and light refreshments were served to the new candidates at Ted's during the final process of initiation.

The banquet dinner served later in the evening was a sumptuous affair. The school dining room and tables were decorated in green and white, the club colors, by the girls of the club under the direction of Miss Alice Leydig, who also prepared the dinner. Maxine Damrell and Lillian Pryor in quaint costumes of green and white, served.

Cornell Vander Meer acted as toast master and gave the address of welcome. Miss Chamberlain responded for the new members. Others who gave toasts during the evening were Miss Mallory, "The Ideal Club Member"; Mr. Wallace, "1920, Our Aim"; Miss Ferbrache, "We, the New Members," and Mr. Cline, "Student Organizations and School Spirit."

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cline were the guests of honor for the evening.

Address Communications to Editor

The Function of a School Newspaper

There seems to be a misunderstanding among the student body as to the function of a school paper. A school paper is supposed to express the thought and spirit of the student body as a whole; it should reflect the innermost thought of the student in his regards toward his school life.

There is a certain hesitancy prevailing among the students as to contributing to the paper. There is a tendency to put the whole of the work into the hands of a few; thus the paper loses its original purpose and becomes a paper wherein are expressed not the thoughts of the student but the thoughts of an undesired few.

In putting out the first edition of the State Normal School Journal the new editorial staff wish to take this opportunity of asking you for your cooperation in making this a successful year for your paper.

If the Journal is to be a paper, "of, for and by the student body," then it is your duty to assist in making it so. The new staff takes this means of inviting you to help in making your school paper a success.

There will be a large Journal box placed in some convenient place, where you may leave your contributions. Any school news of any interest pertaining to the social, athletic, humorous or literary life of the school will be very much appreciated by the editor.

You are the student; this is your paper. Let's hear from you!

Y. W. C. A.

What does it stand for?

Friendliness, service, ideals and good times.

Who can join it?

Any girl in school. No girl is excluded.

Where and when does it meet?

In the Y. W. C. A. room on the first floor, every Thursday afternoon at 4.

What does it do?

Two weeks ago it gave a tea for all the girls in the school, at which Dr. Greenough gave an interesting account of some of the Y. W. C. A. work as she has seen it. Kittie Owens sang, Mary Bolster gave a reading, and Bertha King rendered a piano solo. All who attended had an enjoyable time.

Last week a short program was given, consisting of a piano solo by Ruth Fleming, readings by Mary Bolster and a vocal selection by Emma Kelting, after which Miss Peek described a few of the interesting phases of Y. W. C. A. work carried on in different parts of the world.

An interesting program for the year is being planned.

Why not be a Y. W. C. A. girl?

JOY IN BEING A

SCHOOL TEACHER

A writer in the "Northwest Journal of Education," says that he is happy in the fact that he is a teacher. If all teachers felt the same as this man, how much better our schools, and school life would be!

He says:

"In my many years of teaching work I have found a thousand reasons to rejoice and be glad that I am a teacher. I am glad each year when the time draws near for the new school year to begin; I am glad when the day finally arrives; I am glad to hear the school bells ring, calling the boys and girls back to their books and their work; I am glad to meet them skipping gleefully on their way to school; glad again to meet and greet their teachers—giving the lie to the Shakespearian story of the 'school boy creeping unwillingly snail-like to school.' I am glad when the day's work begins and with teachers and pupils spend a few moments in song and communion with the higher and better things of life in preparation for a good day's work; I am glad to visit the class rooms and see the eagerness and joy with which they pursue their work, strengthening the chords of effort in their desire to achieve and excel. I am glad to meet and greet my fellow teachers, so many of whom have been so loyal and faithful in their work that their memory is a benediction; I am glad when the day's work is over and doubly glad when the new day begins. Yes, it's a wonderful thing to be a teacher—teaching is a labor of love; it's a labor of joy."—Frank W. Simmonds.

Y. M. C. A. REORGANIZED;

MR. EUSTIS AT HELM

After a lapse of three years, that organization known as the Y. M. C. A. has been formed in our school. The men of the school realized that school life would not be complete without some form of a religious organization, hence the Y. M. C. A.

The first meeting was held September 21, at which time the following officers were elected: President, Raymond Acheson; vice president, Victor Smith; secretary-treasurer, Cornell Vander Meer. Meetings are now held regularly on Monday evenings in the room provided for the Christian organizations of both men and women.

In lieu of the fact that there are social functions aplenty for the men of the school, the Y. M. C. A. will confine itself for the present to only the religious training of the men of the school. However social functions may be arranged for at a later date.

Are You Wishing to Reduce? If So, See Dr. Clyde E. Cooper.

Are you fat? Have you too much avoirdupois? If so we advise you to consult Dr. C. E. Cooper, the weight specialist. Dr. Cooper is very well versed along these lines and is a most efficient and skilled "remedier." Your prescription, which will be quite lengthy and somewhat strenuous, should read somewhat like this:

1. Place a full-paged note book and pencil (to record length of time for loss of an ounce) in your upper-hand left-side vest pocket.

2. Be prepared for all sorts of weather, cloud bursts, included.

3. Commencing at the Pillars, do the hop-skotch down Normal avenue at a 50-mile pace.

4. When you strike the boulevard (strike is used figuratively here, and not literally) start out on a pace that will enable you to keep up with the oldest of old Fords.

5. Turn down the road where you sight the first apple orchard (also a large bull dog).

6. After Highland Flinging for four miles, over six railroad tracks (still at a rapid pace) your first stop is the "Springs," which, according to Dr. Cooper, yield at all times big fish.

7. As night is approaching you will turn backward. If you lose your way, don't worry; so many ounces to the bad.

8. By this time it will doubtless be raining. Don't mind this; stop for a discussion of the weather elements.

9. Marshmallow Sundaes at Ted's absolutely forbidden; remember, this adds to the avoirdupois.

10. Don't allow yourself to succumb to your fatigue emotion. It all happens, you know, in the course of—geography!

RECEIVES WORD

FROM MRS. YOST

Many of the students and faculty will be interested in a letter from Mrs. Margaret Yost, in which she says: "I am liking Oklahoma and the university very much. Cheney Normal is often in my mind, and I am sure I miss all of you people much more than you could possibly be missing me. I find it quite hard to be entirely among strangers after 12 years in Cheney, but we are undertaking a big piece of work here that will carry me far, and I am full of enthusiasm for it.

I hope that some day the road will lead me so that I may cross paths with my friends in Cheney. Sincerely, Mrs. Margaret Yost."

Junior Chautauqua Organizes

The following were elected officers of the Junior Chautauqua last week: President, Martha Mallory; vice president, Miss Dorothy Chamberlain; secretary-treasurer, Bertha King; reporter, Grace Bock; business manager, Lee Palmer.

This is one of the most alive and progressive organizations of the school. The work of the society is to provide entertainments of music, readings, etc., and it is planned to organize into companies of three or four each and give programs in various places and out of Cheney. Anyone is eligible to membership in the club provided five minutes' entertainment can be given before the members. Those who have qualified recently are Miss Dorothy Chamberlain, Bertha King, Lee Palmer, Anne Ferbrache, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Vander Meer, Grace Bock, Kittie Owens, Hazel Wilson and Muriel McDonald. It is hoped that more students will express desire to become members.

Several dates have already been made and it is evident that the service of the society is in great demand.

Tests

The late ambassador Walter Hines Page was formerly editor of The World's Work and, like all editors, was obliged to refuse a great many stories. A lady once wrote to him:

"Sir: You sent back last week a story of mine. I know that you did not read the story, for as a test I had pasted together pages 18, 19 and 20, and the story came back with these pages still pasted; and so I know you are a fraud and turn down stories without reading same."

Mr. Page wrote back:

"Madame: At breakfast when I open an egg I don't have to eat the whole egg to discover it is bad."

MR. FARNHAM READS

"THE MELTING POT"

Last Friday night Mr. Farnham read "The Melting Pot" to a large and appreciative audience in Spokane, at St. Paul's Methodist church.

Mr. Farnham was as always very well received. Next Friday evening he will read "The Fortune Hunter" in Kellogg, Ida.

NORMAL LYCEUM

COURSE RECEIVES OFFERS

That the Normal school lyceum course was indeed popular last year is evidenced by the fact that many towns are writing and securing return engagements for the course this year.

This year the lyceum is offering lectures on up-to-date topics by Vice President C. S. Kingston, travel lectures by C. E. Cooper, musical entertainments by J. DeForest Cline and popular lectures and readings by Mr. Farnham.

The lyceum gives to the small town the privilege of securing an entertainment which costs but one-fifth the usual lyceum or chautauqua fee. A number may be recalled from two to five times during the year.

The following towns were among the first to secure engagements this year: Spangle, Marshall, Elberton, Edwall, Hooper and Locke.

DRAMATIC CLUB SOON

TO PRESENT PLAY

Rehearsals for "The Man on the Box," by Harold MacGrath, the premier play of the Dramatic club, are nearing an end, for it is the intention of the club to present the play in about a week.

The play, adapted from the novel, "The Man on the Box," is described as a comedy and is said to be full of humorous situations. The leads are played by Miss Chamberlain, Martha Malory, Mr. Miller, Mr. Vander Meer, and Mr. Erickson.

Assembly Notes

On Tuesday the assembly period was given over to the Associated Student Body.

The program committee had prepared an excellent program, which was appreciated by all and it is hoped that the committee will furnish similar entertainments in the near future.

Following the program each class adjourned to separate rooms and held elections for class officers.

The assembly last Friday opened with regular chapel exercises. The rest of the period was given over to the practice of yells and songs for the football game, so the rest of the students would be prepared to do their part and not leave it all to the team.

Mr. Laughon, our peppy yell leader, so thoroughly infused us with the spirit that all were ready to do our hardest when it came time for the game.

Credit to the French

A French professor has become famous by discovering a method of perfecting the form of the ears. Have courage, girls; there may yet be a remedy for "rats."

ISABEL CRAIG BACON TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

Isabel Craig Bacon, who is connected with the federal board of vocational education, will address the Cheney State Normal school in the near future.

Miss Macon's field of work is a timely and interesting one, and her lecture will be looked forward to with interest.

Extension Work of C. S. N. S. Carried On In Spokane

The classes that are being carried on by the extension work of the Cheney State Normal school are showing usually large attendance.

Mr. Kingston is conducting a class every Saturday night, in modern European history.

Mr. Cooper is also in charge of a geography class.

The classes meet in the Lewis and Clark high school building.

PLAN TO CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY

Last week the townspeople and faculty met to plan a fitting celebration in honor of Armistice day, November 11. Several committees were named to lead the work and we are assured that Cheney will have a suitable celebration for the occasion.

NEW CLUB ORGANIZED

A club called the "Kewanee Alan club" has been organized. The following members have been elected: Marian Scott, president; Ruth Davis, vice president; Emma Robertson, secretary-treasurer; Elizabeth Everett, reporter.

The club is planning many good times for the year. Plans are under way for a club room. The colors are burnt orange and black.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH ENTERTAINS

An informal welcome party was given at the Methodist Episcopal church last Friday evening for friends, students and faculty of the Normal. Rev. Creesy gave the welcoming address, which was greatly appreciated by everyone.

Entertainment was furnished by the Normal school Junior Chautauque, consisting of the following numbers: Solo, Mr. A. A. Eustis; reading, Martha Mallory; solo, Jeanette Vander Meer; reading, Mary Bolster. A very interesting talk and special reading entitled "Out to Old Aunt Mary's" was given by Mr. Farnham.

The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in playing games and stunts, directed by Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan, Kitty Owens and Grace Bock.

The patrons and patronesses of the evening were: President and Mrs. Showalter, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Buchanan, Rev. and Mrs. Creesy, Mr. Curtis Merriman, Mrs. Robert Watson and Mrs. Holsey.

In Appreciation

Tho the Journal staff is as yet not very well organized, the editor herewith takes this means of expressing her gratitude for the cooperation of the following students, making this week's paper possible: George Wallace, Lulu Harmon, Mary Bolster, Della Wood, Kitty Owens, Marian Scott and Katherine Kurns.

Y. W. C. A.

Last Thursday a business meeting was held and the following officers were elected: Vice president, Leyla Hodshire; secretary, Esther Gingrich; treasurer, Jennie Freeman; reporter, Mabel Wetzell; pianist, Lucille Chapman. No president was elected at this meeting, as Miss Grace Bock was elected by the members last spring to serve this year.

The other business consisted of the financing problem, and the decorating of the Y. W. C. A. room, about which all were very enthusiastic.

SENIOR HALL NOTES

Last week Miss Goodman entertained the girls of Senior Hall with a cardy and dancing party. Miss Goodman gave a friendly little talk, after which all authority was turned over to the Dance King. While most of the girls were engaged in dancing, some more industrious persons were concocting some very delicious taffy, which was very much enjoyed by all.

Later in the evening the election of the Senior Hall president was held and Miss Martha Mallory was elected. Miss Mary Bolster was also elected to be our reporter for the quarter. The evening closed with the singing of the Senior Hall song, and everyone left with the feeling that Miss Goodman had given us a most delightful evening.

The Senior Hall girls were indeed sorry to see Miss Ruth Damrell leave last week for her home at Kendrick, Idaho. Miss Damrell has recently recovered from diphtheria, and will not return to school this quarter.

Miss Ethel Peterson of Spokane was the guest of Miss Martha Mallory over the week-end.

The Misses Ruth Fleming and Rachel de Hues spent the week-end in Spokane.

A FUTURE DIPLOMAT

In a recent history examination in the Training school the following answer was submitted to one of the questions:

"The Monroe doctrine was made by President Monroe and he said for the U. S. to stay out of other countries business and for other countries to stay out of the U. S. business. In other words, 'Hands Off.'"

MONROE HALL DANCE

Plans are well under way for the Monroe Hall dance to given by the Monroe Hall girls Friday evening, October 15.

More than 200 invitations have been issued and everyone is expecting a jelly good time.

MADDAR-COBURN WEDDING

Mr. Kingston is in receipt of an announcement of the marriage of Miss Mildred Maddar to Glen Coburn, at Bishop, California, on October 1, 1920. Mrs. Coburn attended Cheney State Normal in 1917.

Mr. and Mrs. Coburn will reside at Keeler, Cal.

TALK COLLEGE BUDGETS

Board of Higher Curricula Finds Prices a Knotty Problem.

The joint board of higher curricula in session here yesterday devoted the entire day to considering future expense budgets for the higher educational institutions of the state. This provided a knotty problem because of the unsettled price conditions and the board will be obliged to take up the work at an adjourned session today. The governor will use the suggestions for the legislature.

State Senator E. T. Coman presided. Heads of the educational institutions including the normal schools, state college and university discussed statements on institutional expenses.

"It is a difficult problem to work out the future costs of running the institutions," said Senator Coman. "The increased cost of getting the instructors and the cost of fuel and the like all enter into the budget consideration. We are now considering reports and will submit our findings to the governor."

It had been expected that a report prepared last week by a committee made up of the state normal heads and deans of the state university and college on means of meeting the teachers' shortage and certification of teachers would be considered, but the report was not reached.—Spokesman-Review, October 19.

Y. W. C. A. to Furnish Room

Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock the girls of the Y. W. C. A. served tea to the girls of the Normal school. Afterwards Miss Most showed and explained some plans which had been worked out by the interior decorating class, for the furnishing and decorating of the Y. W. C. A. room. The plans suggested many ways in which the room could be made beautiful and home-like. After some discussion it was decided that a committee be appointed from the different societies and house groups to further the work.

Miss Anna Murray was elected representative of the Y. W. C. A.

PALMER METHOD REPRESENTATIVE VISITS NORMAL

Miss L. Hazel Williams, a representative of the A. N. Palmer company with headquarters at Portland, Ore., was a visitor at the Normal on Monday, October 18. Upon Mr. Haeseler's invitation she lectured upon and demonstrated to both penmanship classes the art of acquiring and teaching muscular movement writing. She also visited the high school and grade school in the morning and held a conference with teachers in the afternoon.

Miss Williams is successor to Miss Helen Reddy, who has visited the Normal regularly for several years. Miss Reddy is now with the Broadway high school of Seattle.

HYGIENE CLASS

UNUSUALLY BRILLIANT

Dr. Greenough says that she is quite impressed with the unusual amount of brilliancy her hygiene class is developing. In a recent examination the following answers were submitted:

"The Eustachian tube runs from the outer ear, through the middle ear, to the inner ear, and to the mouth or throat."

"Fallen arches are due to wearing stilts." (Masculine viewpoint).

The requirements of a good shoe are:

"The soul must be broader than the foot itself—or must it be narrower than the foot?"

"The nose is the means of clearing out the head of puss"—(poor kitty!)

MONROE HALL ELECTS

The new officers for Monroe Hall are as follows: Leota McManamon, president; Esther Larson, vice president; Blanche Fisher, secretary-treasurer; Jessie Finlay, chairman of the program committee; Freda Kjack, yell leader, and Katherine Kerns, Journal reporter.

On Tuesday morning, September 28, the Monroe Hall girls made quite an effective entrance into the auditorium, marching single file with their new colors, silver and cherry, flying.

"When Real Peace Comes"

Some happy day we shall beat our swords into plowshares and our jazz bands into unconsciousness.

Personal Degrees

In the school of experience sore spots serve as a diploma.—Baltimore Sun.

Sacred and Baseball History

Ira Andrews, the newly elected city clerk of Terre Haute, is active in Sunday school work. Last Sunday he advised the children of his class that the morning study would be about Ruth, referring, of course, to the gleaner.

"Now," said Andrews, after introducing the subject, "who can tell me anything about Ruth?"

Up went a little hand in the rear of the class.

"Well, Willie," asked the teacher.

"What do you know about Ruth?"

"He made twenty-nine home-runs last season," was the answer.—Indianapolis News.

Nut Waiter Wanted

An old lady, after waiting in a confectionery store for about 10 minutes, grew grossly impatient at the lack of service.

Finally she rapped sharply on the counter.

"Here, young lady," she called, "who waits on the nuts?"—Everybody's Magazine.

We Would Like to Know Just Why—

1. George is so popular.
2. Mr. Cooper is so sarcastic.
3. Lee Palmer is a woman hater.
4. Howard Erickson "gets by" with the girls.
5. They call her "Ole."

Heard in Expression Class

Mr. Farnham: "Miss McDonald, will you give us 'Out to Old Aunt Mary's'?"

Avis M.: "Oh, I was studying Jack last night and didn't get it."
